Why do we have Children's Centres?

Children's Centres bring together lots of organisations including Westminster City Council, NHS Westminster and voluntary and community partners to give you and your family the best possible services.

The services available at Children's Centres help children and their families to:

- be healthy
- stay safe
- enjoy and achieve by developing skills and getting the most out of life
- make a positive contribution and get involved with the community
- achieve economic wellbeing.

What types of services and activities take place at Children's Centres?

Children's Centres offer a range of services and activities:

- play sessions
- stop smoking services
- health visiting services and clinics offering information and support
- dental and oral advice
- community drop-in sessions for children and carers
- breakfasting groups
- family learning
- adult education classes and training
- individual support through home visiting.

Where are the Children's Centres in Westminster?

There are 15 Children's Centres in Westminster including three information points in Marylebone, St. John's Wood and Victoria libraries. The centres are split into three areas: North West, North East and South Westminster.

The map above shows the location of the main sites. Services are delivered from other local venues including libraries, health and family centres, primary schools and community centres. Staff at your local Children's Centre will be able to tell you where to go to access services in your area.

When can I use Children's Centres?

Children's Centres are open at least five days a week. Each venue has set opening hours and an activities calendar, so you can plan when you and your family will attend different sessions, depending on your interests. Visit your local centre to find out more.
